It is possible to change your intelligence

Mistakes are setbacks

I enjoy taking a risk even if it means I may make a mistake

I don't like to take risks if there is a possibility for failure

Challenges feel like an opportunity to learn

If it doesn't come easily, it means I can't be good at it

I am interested in learning

Challenges can feel frustrating

I turn obstacles into opportunities

Looking smart is important

Students believe they will learn from their mistakes

A student does not participate for fear of being wrong

When a student is unsuccessful on a task, he/she will feel motivated to study more and use different learning strategies to persevere

When a student is unsuccessful on a task, he/she may feel insecure, study less next time, or even consider cheating

Effort enables me to become successful

I welcome constructive feedback
